OUTLOOK

Camron is a prolific scoring combo guard. He can play either the point guard or shooting guard positions. His quickness, ball handling ability, and shooting ability make him a difficult matchup. He can score in a variety of ways. His most dangerous weapon is his pullup jumper, but he is also effective in catch-and-shoot situations. Camron's agility also makes him difficult defend on drives to the basket. He relies on elusiveness, rather than athleticism, to go around defenders and finish.

Camron is difficult to defend in ball screen situations because he is always a threat to score. He also is a good decision-maker, drawing defenders before making plays for his teammates. On defense, his quickness allows him to pressure ball handlers and deny passing lanes.
